With F.M.L.

116 and NOW are criticized once in awhile for the level of diction which some readers say is difficult to understand without frequent trips to a dictionary.

We defend the practice by suggesting that most readers understand by association and implication the meaning of words in context. Like others, we sometime use words out of context and out of reach. But that is because writers also write for themselves first, if not for total understanding of columns and editorials.

This is leading to a piece contained in Publishers' Auxiliary about descriptive writing among post-Civil War Western newspapers. It is far more elaborate than anything we've put to ink here.

EXAMPLE: From the Reese River, Nevada, Reveille in 1864:

QUOTE: The cerulean ethereal concavity presents to the enraptured view of our happy and favored people a continued and glorious prospect of serenity and unbroken beauty. Not a cloud mars the majestic vaulted immensity. The gentle breathings of composed and tranquil nature fan the delicate incarnadine jowl of modest, blushing beauty. Healthy, vivacity, vigor, and joyousness abound, and we are a contented community.

Oh, ye revelers in mud and alcoholic bronchial medicaments in the vicinity of Slippery Gulch and Sacramento, how ye envy us! Leave your wallowing and come up and join us in a May Day dance. END OF QUOTE I'm not sure what this writer said. And that was the point. When he had nothing to say, the writer a century ago used words to describe something in this gibberish which was supposed to cover a lack of facts.

A writer tries to be understood in fact or by word implication, such as essays in the former and poetry in the latter. The Nevada writer of 111 years missed on both counts.

I've read some stuff in old copies of The Herald which vaulted into this 19th century jargon. It was some kind of journalistic license often reserved for funeral orations and political satire. It wasn't writing.

Building Permit Importance Told By Inspector

Ed Bigbee, city code officer and building inspector, this week issued a reminder to all residents and contractors that a building permit is required by the city for construction, enlargement, alterations, repairs, moving, demolishing or changing the occupancy of a building or structure.

This also applies to the erection of any type of sign.

Applications are to be made at Bigbee's office at 109 N. Central along with payment of a permit fee. The applicant needs to have a general description of the proposed work and its location, with the legal description, that is, the lot number, block number and subdivision, if any.

Bigbee said the applicant needs a drawing or rough plan and specifications just for the building permit. Applicants must be sure that their work conforms with local zoning requirements, especially if they are adding new space to their house.

"Don't skip either of these checks because a violation of one or the other could result in your being compelled to tear down what was built at no small loss," Bigbee said. "Be sure and discuss this with the building inspector."

"You must have the permit in hand before you start any type of construction," he continued, "otherwise, you'll be subject to a fine for as much as $200. Every day shall be a separate offense."

Mayor Blake Chides Council For Street Paving Questions

Mayor Gene Blake, presiding over the city council for the first time in several meetings, Tuesday evening chided the council for "publicly criticizing" him in regard to the paving of two city streets.

The streets in question are 11th and Cleveland, which were recently paved. At the last council meeting, while Blake was still absent, members of the council questioned the authority of having the two streets paved.

Tuesday Mayor Blake said he took "full responsibility" for the job and said that it had been approved by the council according to a copy of the relevant minutes. City Atty. Ed Magre supported the mayor, saying he remembered the meeting at which the work was authorized.

Blake said the council had no right to question the legality of the work and said minutes of the last meeting "read that I've done something illegal."

Blake added that property owners on the streets had put up their money for the paving and the city is "morally obligated to pave streets when the property owners put up their money."

In other business, council authorized installing street lights in two locations and authorized the placing of ceramic buttons for marking streets in areas not marked.

Mayor Blake recommended, and council voted to adopt the policy of granting a $3,000 homestead exemption when residents of 65 or over render their taxes. This will take effect January 1, 1976.

Blake told the council that $7,000 is available from HUD to pave streets in the low-rent housing area in west Cameron.

The mayor commended Fire Chief Felix Matula for his reorganization of the fire department. Matula asked

Milam Banks Gain $6 Million

Banks throughout Texas reported from modest to sharp increases in deposit totals according to bank call reports. In Milam County, banks' gains in deposits totaled $6,667,734 from last year at the same time.

The five banks in the county showed total deposits of $66,332,511, an increase over last year's totals of $59,664,777 on October 15, 1974.

The U. S. Controller of Currency and the Federal Reserve Board issued a bank call for conditions of the financial institutions as of Sept. 30.

A bright picture was painted by most bank spokesmen in the state who said economic conditions were improving and perhaps the state had hurdled the recession barrier.

Prisoner Departs From Jail Scene

A prisoner from the Milam County jail walked away from the jail Monday morning and has not yet been found. He is Larry Rosemond of Cameron, who was in jail on a burglary charge.

Sheriff Carl Black said he had Rosemond emptying trash from the jail and had walked across the street with him to the courthouse where the trash was dumped in cans on the sidewalk. The sheriff watched Rosemond cross back toward the jail and then went into the courthouse. Black said Rosemond apparently put his trash can down by the jail and walked off without deputies inside seeing him.

Rosemond was charged with the burglary of guns from Wied's Hardware in Cameron about two weeks ago. A number of guns were stolen from the store with some being recovered at Rosemond's home.

Postal Increases Begin Dec. 28

The Postal Service has announced higher postage rates to include 13 cents for a first-class letter will begin December 28, three days after Christmas.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar announced earlier he would delay the long-expected increases until after Christmas, but had not set the date.

In addition to increasing the rate for a first-class letter from 10 to 13 cents for the first ounce, the new rates will increase the cost for post cards from 7 cents to 9 cents. Parcel post rates will go up about 10 percent.

Arts & Crafts Show Set For Saturday

The annual Cameron Arts and Crafts Show, advertised widely this year, is set for Saturday, in the City Park from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., with demonstrations to be shown across the street at the city library.

Mrs. Richard Bush, chairman of the show, listed a number of booths where arts and crafts will be on sale in the park and also booths where good things to eat will also be for sale.

Local artists and craftsmen will take part in the show and others will come from all over the area, Mrs. Bush said.

Arts and crafts in the park will include the oil paintings of Donald Pimpler, metal sculpture by Maxie Morgan and James Brock, Indian jewelry by Barbara Bass of Huntsville, handmade and special design purses by Mrs. Lester Williams, and glass blowing by Charles Jones of Houston.

Others will include water colors, macrame, decoupage, hand work, metal arts, and quilts.

In the library will be demonstrations of Christmas decorations, crochet, weaving, crewel embroidery, and telepeacay wood from Mexico, displayed by Perry Holder. Residents of the Colonial Nursing Home will also display handicrafts.

Food booths will include sandwiches offered by the History Club, sweets, cookies, and cakes by the Lutheran ladies, kolaches by Mrs. T. T. Gilbert, homemade chili by the Methodist ladies, barbecue sausage by Dean Trubee, and a selection of cold drinks. Mrs. Perry Holder is co-chairman of the show.

Auto Insurance Rates Due Rise

Auto insurance rates almost certainly are going up — and rather steeply.

The State Insurance Board staff recommended an average statewide increase of 17 per cent at an October 1 hearing on proposed new rates.

Even that didn't satisfy insurance industry spokesmen who asked a 24.9 per cent overall increase.

Figures proposed by Board staff actuaries would increase company revenues $112.8 million a year. The companies sought a $165.4 million hike.

New rates outlined by the Board staff would raise premiums of so-called typical or average motorists over 25 years of age driving late-model medium-priced cars to work in the range of $8 to $43 a year.

Smallest increase would be in the Sherman-Denison area and the largest in Houston.

Figures refer to standard liability, $100 deductible collision and full coverage comprehensive.

Young drivers in Houston may face a $130 increase, to $746 a year, for their regular coverage, while older drivers in that city pay about $296 for the same insurance.

The Board will make its decision by October 15, Chairman Joe Christie indicated.

Synonomous Interests...

The right of public employees to unionize, then strike when things don't suit may yet explode in their public union faces.

Most recent question is in the form of a civil damage suit filed by the State of Missouri against striking firemen in Kansas City.

The strike continues while Missouri asks $30,000 a day during its duration.

City services have been paralyzed throughout metro U. S. when police and fireman unions, garbage collectors have let things stack up.

The Missouri suit may establish a precedent of punitive and actual damages payable by the public unions if they are willing to risk the cost for more pay.

The hard truth is productivity is not in line with union demand in almost any kind of trade the past few years. This fuels inflation and forces costs up based on unreal productivity factors.

The hard truth is that organized trades want for their members the advantages of professions without the individual development usually associated with the professions. Teachers are clearly headed into a union mentality of rewarding the whole group with little regard for individual teaching skills and knowledge of subject.

It is difficult for personal standards and pride to survive the organized pressures for more money without some corresponding gain in input.

The same applies in governmental sense to welfare payments. It is gamesmanship to see if people can get on the roles, on food stamp programs (including college students) and how long they can stay on.

The Missouri case may test the validity of public unions to escape impunity for disasters which occur in fires or public health or safety menace left exposed by strikes.

And it may thrust productivity to the front when management and labor begin confrontation for new contracts in the face of major gains by foreign auto imports, to name only one threat, Russian wheat deals slowed by AFL-CIO's Meany, among others.

If a union has to pay from strike funds for lack of service in interim strikes periods to the loser, John Q. Public, then the union and management both may realize that John Q. Public is synonomous with their interests.

DECEPTIVE PRACTICES IN FUNERAL INDUSTRY GET FTC ATTENTION

Senator Vance Hartke (Ind.) ... The Federal Trade Commission has recently proposed a trade regulation rule concerning funeral practices.

"The Commission stated it has reason to believe that certain consumers have been exploited by some elements of the funeral industry through a variety of misrepresentations, improper sale tactics, nondisclosure of vital information, and interference with the market.

"The rule would prohibit funeral directors from: (We list a few)...

"Picking up or embalming corpses without permission from the family;

"Requiring those who opt for an immediate cremation to purchase a casket, and refusing to make available inexpensive containers suitable for cremation;

"Untruthful and unsubstantiated claims of watertightness or airtightness of caskets and burial vaults;

"Bait-and-switch tactics;

"Disparagement of consumers concern for price;

"Interferences with the offering of low-cost funerals, direct cremation services, or other alternative modes of disposition preneed arrangements; and memorial society activities.

"The rule would also require mortuaries to furnish to customers:

"First, a fact sheet about legal requirements for embalming, caskets, and burial vaults;

"Second, a casket price list;

"Third, an itemized list of prices for the services and merchandise offered for sale, with conspicuous disclosure of the consumers right to select only the items desired;

"The rule would also require funeral homes which advertise to include in their advertisements a notice that price information is available and the telephone number to call to obtain such information.

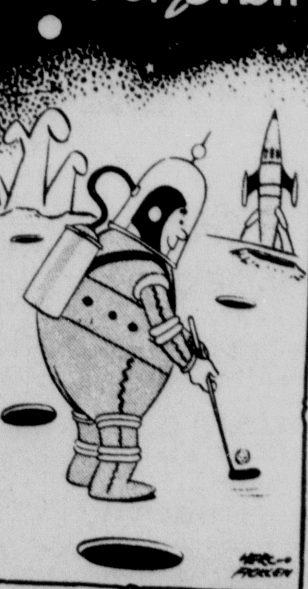

"Thus it is both consistent and appropriate that we examine closely industry practices as they relate to veterans and their families, particularly when that industry will receive several billion dollars in Federal veteran benefits in the coming decades. ....

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

FTC rules would work no hardship on Funeral Directors who provide honest and conscientious service for the bereaved.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

Since I don't even know what's going on in Cameron I couldn't be expected to know what's going on in Portugal, but an item in the paper about that country caught my attention the other day.

According to it, the CIA, after denying it, reluctantly admitted the U. S. contributed about 10 million dollars to Portugal in its struggle against Communism. The CIA said it was against national security to reveal this secret and did so only because Congress demanded to know. At the same time, it said it was justified in contributing the money because Russia had given about as much to the Communist side in Portugal.

I don't know anything about the CIA, but I figure if it knew what Russia was giving, Russia probably knew what the U. S. was giving, and the only group in the dark about the matter was you and me. As the Watergate gang learned, it's hard to undetectably transfer money from one country to another, say from Mexico to Washington.

I may be wrong about this, but it seems to me in a situation like Portugal or some other countries we've taken a hand in, our furnishing money and arms to the government to keep it from going one way, and Russia's furnishing money and arms to get it to go the other way, is like a basketball team taking money from one side to throw the game its way and then taking money from another side to throw it the other way.

This is confusing to everybody, especially to the basketball players, unless they get a cut of the bribe money and don't really care who wins.

Actually, in this day and time, when trying to keep the secret of something like the atom bomb is like trying to keep the secret of the bicycle or the motor-scooter, nations might be just as well off trying to take care of their own business right out in public.

As for the CIA, I'm sure we need it, but its men seem to be trained for just a few things. For example, it would have been handy to know, and not hard to find out, that Russia had a short grain crop two years ago and again this year, but the CIA simply has nobody in its outfit trained to look out the window and see if Russia needs a rain.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

County Agent's Notes

Entomologist Proposed For Two County Area

By Bill McCutchen

The Blackland Cotton and Grain Producers Assoc. has proposed to put up funds to hire an entomologist to serve Milam and Williamson Counties. The main thrust is to be cotton pest management, but grain-sorghum and corn pest management are other options.

The proposed entomology position will be under the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the entomologist would be housed in the Extension office in Georgetown but serve both counties.

One of the prime jobs of the entomologist would be to hire and train cotton scouts. These scouts would check cotton fields as often as was deemed necessary taking beneficial and harmful insects counts. This information would be the basis for any pesticide application.

Objectives of the program are to make money for the cotton producer by increasing cotton yields and also hopefully cutting down on pesticide applications necessary to make a crop.

As I mentioned the entomologist position will be funded by the Blackland Cotton and Grain Producers Association, but the scouts would be paid by producers in the program at the annual rate of $1.60 per acre for dryland cotton and $1.30 per acre for grain sorghum.

For the program to go, at least 1800 acres of cotton in Milam County needs to be committed to the program. This would be enough to occupy one scout. Williamson County feels that they can utilize three scouts and it would take at least 4 scouts total to make the program worthwhile.

This is not a new program as it has been tried and found to be very effective in Hill County, the Trans-Pecos area, and the Lower Rio Grande valley.

If producers are interested in this program they should contact the Milam County Extension Office immediately. If the 1800 cotton acres are available the program will be go, if not the entomologist may be used elsewhere.

One of the areas considering the cotton pest management program are producers on the Little River bottom below Cameron and those along the Brazos. These producers are usually involved in late season cotton insect control and potential benefits are considerable in this area.

The program, however, is open to any who are interested in participating and some in the Buckholts and Val Verde area along the Little River may well be interested.

A steering committee of involved producers from both Milam and Williamson County would be set up to provide guidance and direction for the program.

John Wakefield, Williamson County Agent thinks there is interest in the Thrall area and the Thorndale group if interested may be grouped with some of these for scouting purposes.

At any rate, I need feedback from producers immediately as to whether or not there is interest in the program.

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT SEMINAR--Pictured is Billy McCutchen, right, Milam County Extension Agent, receiving a Certificate of Completion for an Agricultural Financial Management Seminar from Wayne A. ### Fall Lawn Care Vital To Spring Recovery, Growth

After six months of mowing and watering lawns, most homeowners will be glad to see their lawns turn brown after the first hard frost. But, to insure weed-free winter lawns and complete recovery of the grass next spring, a few chores remain.

"Fall fertilization is the key to prolonged green color and promoting early spring recovery of turfgrasses," says Dr. Richard L. Duple, turf grass specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "It also helps to produce a dense turf which discourages the invasion of winter weeds."

Duple recommends applying a balanced fertilizer (one which contains nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium in equal proportions, such as 12-12-12 or 8-8-8) at a rate of one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet. High nitrogen fertilizers should not be applied to St. Augustine lawns in the fall since they increase the susceptibility of the grass to brownpatch, a fungus disease.

"If winter weeds have been a problem in past years, apply a pre-emergence herbicide for additional protection against weeds," suggests the Texas A&M University System specialist. Materials containing atrazine, benefin, bensulfide, and dacthal provide pre-emergence control of many winter annual weeds. Some pre-emergence herbicides are available in formulations with fertilizers, which simplifies the application procedure.

"Be sure to follow label instructions in regard to grass species and rates of application when using herbicides," cautions Duple. "Materials containing atrazine should not be used around trees and shrubs."

The turfgrass specialist advises applying a fungicide on St. Augustine lawns to prevent damage.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

 Asst. County Extension Ag.

borah Glaser 13th and 14th. Dairy heifers - Shari Spence 1st and Reserve Junior Champion; Peter Riola 1st and Senior Grand Champion; Gery Hollas 4th; Glen Spence 2nd and 3rd.

On the junior team were Lisa Rubac, Lori Tomascik, Gayle Hause, and Deborah Glaser. All of these young ladies were members of the 3rd place district team.

Milam County will also have some 4-H'ers entered in the State Fair of Texas which is going on October 5-18.

Cotton Report

Trading for the week ending October 3 was moderate as farmers in the Central Texas Blacklands were offering cotton more readily, reports J. B. Russ, officer in charge, Austin Classing Office.

In the Central Texas Blacklands, lots of grades 42 and 51, staples 32 and 33, milk 3.5-4.9 sold for 47 cents, and grades 52/42 Bark, staples 32 and 33, milk 3.5-4.9 sold for 42 to 43 cents. Cottonseed sold for $95/ton in the Central Texas Blacklands area.

Star-Spangled Food and Fiber... Not Quite As Sweet... Moving On.

If you go to the State Fair of Texas this year--and who won't be sure to visit the Food and Fiber Pavilion--you can see a star-spangled array of fine Texas agricultural products. You'll see highlights of our nation's history as well as enjoying some of the modern-day foods grown in Texas.

The Food and Fiber Pavilion is sponsored annually by the Texas Department of Agriculture to show consumers in the state the variety and high quality of foods produced by our state's agricultural producers.

One of the features at the Pavilion will be a trading post of bygone years, when it served as grocery, department and hardware store, meeting hall, election stump, and refuge for territorial settlers. Relics of the past will be displayed side by side with contemporary food products.

You can also see a town square band stand. It will feature continuous entertainment including a marionette show, bands, and other acts from 17 Texas junior colleges.

OCT. 14 will be a special day at the fair, too. That will be the time for the Family Land Heritage Program ceremonies. Activities will be held in the Hall of State, one presentation at 11 a.m., and another at 1:30 p.m.

To be honored will be Texas farm and ranch families who have owned and operated the same piece of land through their descendants for 100 or more consecutive years.

This year, a total of 384 families qualified for this award. Last year, the first year of the program, 560 families were honored. Their names will be entered in the Family Land Heritage Registry, which is proving a valuable document for historians.

FIGURES ON HONEY PRODUCTION are not quite as sweet this year as last, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes.

Honey production in Texas for 1975 is estimated at 5,978,000 pounds. Production last year was slightly higher, 6,100,000 pounds. Two years ago, production in Texas was the same as estimated for 1975.

Commercial apiaries had 98,000 colonies this year, which is 2,000 less than a year ago. Average yield is expected to be 61 pounds per colony this year, the same as 1974.

Nationwide, honey production is three per cent above a year ago, but 20 per cent under the 1973 production.

HARVESTING OF CROPS in the state continues to move ahead. Sorghum harvest is now more than three-fourths complete; cotton harvest is around 25 per cent finished; corn harvest is at about the half-way mark; peanut harvesting is also nearing the 50 per cent mark.

The 1975 pecan crop is rapidly nearing maturity. Some of the earlier varieties are ready for harvest; citrus harvest is limited to scattered picking of oranges with volume shipments expected to begin about the middle of this month. Fruit should be of good to excellent quality.

That new crop--sunflowers--is making satisfactory progress in harvest, but yields have been somewhat lower than expected.

Grain Price Increases Cause Small Food Rise

Food prices should increase only 3.5 to 4.5 percent this year compared to the 14 percent increase of last year. This is less than a one percent increase in the Consumer Price Index, of which food accounts for just under 20 percent.

And only a small portion of this increase in food cost is due to increased grain prices for farmers, points out an economist in marketing for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The fact is, due to a time lag, the boost in grain prices that has occurred in recent months has not yet affected retail food prices," says Dr. Russell McDonald. "Despite the fact that corn has increased 45 cents per bushel since June and wheat has gone up $1.40 and soybeans, $1.25 three to twelve months must pass before changes in grain prices show up at the retail level."

This lag varies with the production cycle of various products and with the complexity of the processing and marketing channel, explains the Texas A&M University System economist. Furthermore, the addition of services to foodstuffs in the market channel adds on the average about 60 percent to the final retail price.

"Increased grain prices have their greatest effect on the prices of livestock products," points out McDonald, "since these products account for about half of all consumer food expenditures. Analysts with the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago estimate that a $1 per bushel increase in corn prices may boost per capita food expenditures by about 2.5 to 3.5 percent. On the other hand, the same increase in wheat or soybean prices might increase per capita food expenditures by less than one-half percent."

According to the economist, the increase in grain prices will cause some increase in food prices next year, but any recent food price increase are due mainly to increased processing and marketing costs. "Upward price pressures have occurred in such areas as labor, packaging, and transportation in the past few years, and these will continue to push retail food costs up along with any increases in the cost of the raw food products," notes McDonald.

Power Company Disputes Rates

The electric rate increase recommended by Touche Ross is unrealistic if Texas Power & Light Company is to adequately serve the future power requirements of its customers, J. F. Skelton, TP&L President, said.

Touche Ross, a consulting firm employed by the City of Waco and several other cities in the TP&L service area, recommended that the company be granted only a 8.2% increase instead of the 10.6% requested by TP&L. At a meeting with the Waco city council in Waco October 14, TP&L will offer expert testimony refuting the Touche Ross conclusions, Skelton said.

"Obviously, we are disappointed in the recommendation of Touche Ross," Skelton continued. "The rate increase we are seeking is the minimum necessary to meet the commitments we must make in order to assure our customers a dependable source of electric power. And if we are forced to accept the proposal of Touche Ross, the company will be forced to review its construction program and the time lag between this and the next rate increase will be noticeably shortened," he added.

He added, however, that TP&L's ability to serve its customers adequately will be impaired seriously if the company receives less than 10.6% increase.

The increase, he explained, will help assure investor confidence in TP&L, a necessity for the company to raise the hundreds of millions of dollars required to construct nuclear and lignite power plants.

Fuel is a major cost in power production, Skelton emphasized. Currently, the cost of lignite or nuclear fuel needed to generate 1,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity is less than $3, compared to $15 with natural gas and over $20 with oil.

"It is to our customer's advantage, of course, for TP&L to use the most economical fuel," he continued, "and to do that TP&L must spend hundreds of millions of dollars to build lignite and nuclear generating plants. Electric rates in the future will be far lower than they would be if we try to depend on gas and oil for fuel." In addition, Skelton concluded, TP&L cannot count on continuing to get enough gas and oil.

Seminar To Discuss Leukemia

Although the "quality of life" for leukemia patients has improved with newer treatment concepts, there is still no definitive cure for the disease.

Health professionals at St. Edward-Richard Memorial Hospital in Cameron will discuss "Leukemia - Current Approach" during a therapeutic seminar Thursday, Oct. 9 at 12:30 p.m. The local participants will utilize a two-way communication hookup with The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, from which the seminar will originate.

Discussion panelists at the San Antonio site will include guest participant Dr. Joseph Burchenal, director of clinical investigation at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York City.

Newer treatment concepts such as multiple drug therapy and blood component therapy, as well as the emotional and financial problems for long-term patients will be considered.

Honesty is a fine jewel, but much out of fashion.

Comments From Chris

Immunization Needed

By Chris Holcombe

Milam County Extension Ag. As some of you may be aware, October has been designated Immunization Action Month (IAM) for the third consecutive year. National, state, and local organizations are cooperating in an effort to raise immunization levels across the country.

When immunizations first became available, they were widely used because people had seen effects of the disease and were most anxious to protect their children. Unfortunately, as time passed and incidences of the diseases became rare, parents became less diligent in seeing that their children were immunized.

This resulted in a decline of immunization levels. The Texas immunization law requires all children to be immunized before entering school but it is important that preschoolers be protected also.

IAM was initiated in 1973 to reverse the trend of declining immunity levels among 1 to 4 year old children against polio, measles, rubella, mumps, diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough) and tetanus.

Although the 1974 U. S. Immunization Survey data shows a slight increase in immunization levels, the levels are still low enough to permit substantial spread of disease.

To help promote parents in checking up on their children's immunization status, County Judge O. B. Harden has declared October as immunization action month in Milam County.

This program is aimed at getting immunization for the pre-schooler for polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, measles, and rubella. People ask where can I get the shots as well as the oral polio for my child? In Milam County you can take your child to your family doctor or to one of the clinics held by the Milam County Health Department. Their clinic schedule is as follows: Cameron-- Monday afternoon from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Thursday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Rockdale -- Tuesdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., and in Thorndale every 2nd and 4th Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

The Cameron clinic is held at the Milam County Health Department Office at 209 S. Houston. The Rockdale Clinic is held on the second floor of City Hall and the Thorndale Clinic is held in the City Hall.

This program is being jointly sponsored by the Milam County Extension Service and the Family Living Committee of Milam County as well as the Milam County Health Department. If you have any questions contact either of these agencies.

Service To Honor College

The First Assembly of God, 1511 North Houston, will be honoring Southwestern Assemblies of God College, Waxahachie, in services Sunday, October 12th, according to the pastor, Rev. Darryl R. Proffit.

The College serves a seven district region, including North Texas, and receives regular support from the local congregation.

Special speaker for the 10:50 a.m. worship service will be Everett Pafford, a Bible College senior from Brunswick, Ohio.

The highly acclaimed Living Hands Singers, made up of students from both the Junior and Bible Colleges, will be presenting a sacred concert beginning at 6 p.m. The Living Hands Singers are a sign language choir and will be performing the numbers in sign language with a vocal accompaniment.

These services are free, and open to the public. Everyone is invited to attend.

Tourist Industry Sees Fewer Visitors

On Wall Street, stockbrokers call it a "technical adjustment" when prices fall after a sharp rise. Perhaps the Texas tourist industry had its "technical adjustment" during the summer of 1975, when the average tourist party drove fewer miles, stayed a shorter time, and spent less money than in previous quarters or in 1974.

These are the findings of the Summer Quarter Visitor Industry Report just released by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

On the other hand, just like stockbrokers, the Department is optimistic. There is evidence to suggest that there may have been more visitor parties during the 1975 summer. Texas Tourist Bureaus registered a gain in services to out of staters, as did various major tourist attractions. The Department will not, however, know exactly how many auto visitors came to Texas until the end of 1975.

Our town philosopher calls our church "God's branch office." He means no sacrilege because he is a very religious man.

He puts into words the feelings that unite all Christians. Rituals may differ... doctrines may not always agree... denominational labels may seem to keep us apart. Still we share the wondrous knowledge that One Lord is the Savior of us all.

There is no time when this bond of faith is expressed more vividly than on Worldwide Communion Sunday. In our little church about sixty of us will gather. Around the world there will be millions. Together we'll join in an experience that began on the eve of Christ's crucifixion.

Be with us. BE WITH HIM.

Chaparals Are 2 - 2 - 0, Yoemen Will Travel To Austin

The undefeated Cameron Yoemen will travel to Austin to battle the Austin Westlake Chaparals in the second district clash that is scheduled to unfold at Westlake Stadium at 8 p.m.

The Chaparals will be needing a win desperately to stay alive in the district standings after suffering a district opening loss to Caldwell.

For the season the Chaps are even, sporting an average 2-2 win-loss record. The offense for the Chaps have scored 49 and the defense allowed their opponents 75 points.

Against Caldwell in the district opener the Chaparals had the Hornets beat until the fourth quarter and every thing started falling for the 2 and 2 Chaps.

Austin returns this year after beating out a 7-3 record in '74, finishing behind Cameron and Caldwell. They are returning 6 offensive and 5 defensive veterans to this '75 season.

Fullback John Chumney, 6'0", 195, is the offensive striking force leading most of the offensive attack. He will be taking the power-handoffs from Quarterback Paul Huntsberger, a senior weighing 170.

To do the blocking the backs will rely on 183 pounds of average weight to move the Yoe Fence. The Chaps offense isn't well known for the passing game; however, the option and counter plays are a threat to the Yoe defense.

The Chap defense is famous for the 5-2, and is known to stunt from this formation. The front line looks like a carbon copy, with each weighing 190 pounds straight across.

The Chaparals are well coached and will play tough football according to Coach Ed Cauley.

Needing a win to stay alive in district competition, the Chaps will be a threat to the Yoemen in Friday night grid action.

TALENT SPOTLIGHT '75

FRANK TENA

DONALD HANEL

Frank Tena, a 17-year-old senior, is the starting split guard for the Fighting Yoemen. On the field he goes by number 68 and is one of the blocking forces that has opened so many fine and gapping holes for the Yoe running backs.

Besides being a tough character on offense, he is also well known for being a rugged defensive end. Many of the district players have come into contact with his active habits of always being on top of the play.

Football is not all Tena is also a one-year letterman on the track team, lettering on the high and intermediate hur les.

The one-year letterman in football takes it easy when he has time off and enjoys hunting and fishing.

His speed on the offensive and defensive line make him a threat to Yoe opponents.

Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tena, Sr. of Rt. 3, Cameron. He has one married brother, Selastino. Frank has two married sisters, Mary and Gloria, and two that are in school. DeLores is a 9th grader and Louise is a 7th grader.

His activities also include membership in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and the Junior Historians.

I asked Frank how he felt about the season and he said, "We are having a better year, and I hope that we can go all the way."

Last summer he worked for the International Harvester Co. and for the future, Frank plans to attend TSTI.

His football picks include Texas A&M and for the pros he picks the Dallas Cowboys.

The responsibility of offensive blocking rest on the shoulders of Donald Hanel, the tight guard for the Yoe men. The 5'9" senior is a one-year letterman and proudly wears jersey # 60.

Donald is also an alternating defensive end for the famous 'Yoe Fence.' The 17-year-old hands provide the pathway to several of the Yoe touchdowns and has given stability to the offensive attack.

All the backs will say that they couldn't enjoy the success, without someone providing the blocking.

Donald is an active senior who participates in many activities. Among these are membership in the Junior Historians and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

He is also an active member of the Slide Rule Club.

His energies don't run short as he also works part-time for Bargain Oil Co. in Cameron. In his spare time Donald enjoys hunting and fishing.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hanel of Rt. 3, Cameron. He has two brothers, Michael and Thomas, who are married. He also has two sisters who are also married, Debbie and Becky.

I asked Donald how he felt about the season so far and he said, "The season so far has been pretty good. Our defense is really looking good and our offense is also improving."

For the future Donald said he plans to attend Temple Junior College. About his favorite football teams Donald replied, "I'll pick the University of Texas and the Dallas Cowboys."

Now that you've retired, put your savings to work.

Trade your E Bonds for H Bonds

Bought a lot of Series E Savings Bonds over the years? Well, you probably want to keep your nest egg intact. But retirement is the time when you need some extra income.

Here's how to get that income. Just exchange your E Bonds (in cash value amounts of $500 or more) for Series H Bonds. H Bonds pay out interest every six months by Treasury check mailed right to your door, and at a rate averaging 6% annually when held to 10-year maturity.

Just the thing for retirement, when you need steady income coming in.

You'll get a tax break on the exchange, too

When you exchange your E Bonds for H Bonds, your tax liability on your accumulated E Bond interest continues to be deferred. Right up until the H Bonds are cashed or reach final maturity (there's an optional 10-year extension privilege after original maturity).

The result? You get more for your money in the exchange. And when your H Bonds are redeemed, and you finally pay your deferred E Bond tax, it's at your lower post-retirement rate.

Get income as it's earned

Steady, dependable income. Twice a year. Or, if you prefer, get interest checks every month. Just buy an H Bond a month for six consecutive months. That way, you've got a regular income guaranteed.

Purchase $500 to $5,000

Your banker has exchange (as well as new purchase) applications for H Bonds. At face values of $500, $1,000 and $5,000. There's an annual purchase limit of $10,000 ($20,000 with a co-owner), but this won't apply if you're trading in E Bonds.

H Bonds. A good way to make sure your money won't retire when you do.

Take stock in America.

Buy Series H Bonds—now averaging 6% when held to maturity of 10 years.

Sign Removal Expands In State

AUSTIN The outdoor advertising sign removal program is rapidly expanding in Texas according to L. E. Clarke, State Right of Way engineer for the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The program was recently given new impetus when the Federal Highway Administration allocated additional funds for sign removal in Texas.

Funding is now available for payment for and removal of nonconforming advertising signs erected prior to June 29, 1972. A nonconforming sign is one which was lawfully erected along an Interstate or Federal-aid Primary highway but which does not now comply with the Highway Beautification Act or the regulations issued thereunder.

Priority will be given to purchasing and removing nonconforming signs for which permits have not been obtained from the state. Sign owners who have obtained permits may offer their signs for sale if they no longer desire to maintain the signs.

The owner of the land from which a sign is to be removed by the state is also entitled to compensation for the present value of the sign rental which he will probably lose upon removal of the sign. Clarke reported that to date more than 21,000 signs have been removed under the Beautification Program in Texas.

Texas law prohibits the erection of an outdoor advertising sign even in a conforming location along an Interstate or Federal-aid Primary highway unless the owner of the sign has an outdoor advertising license and a permit for each sign. On-premise signs and certain other signs are exempt from such requirement.

According to Clarke, the state is preparing to commence a junkyard and auto wrecking yard screening program as federal funds are now available for that purpose also. Many junkyards and auto wrecking yards were partially screened with plantings several years ago, but that screening is inadequate under the present law.

Funds for the Highway Beautification programs are 75% federal and 25% state. All of such funds are derived from general revenue and none comes from highway user taxes.

SOME POTATOES!—Mrs. Steve Skrhak of Buckholts shows the cluster of 16 sweet potatoes grown by her and her husband in their garden. They grew six plants, and all had from 10 to 14 potatoes in a cluster on each plant. She generously shared the potatoes with the Herald staff.
